

SickKids Transport Fellowship Program

Transport Fellows join a diverse team in this clinical fellowship, where they will provide medical coverage for SickKids' Acute Care Transport Service (ACTS) team, which stabilizes and retrieves patients 0-18 years of age in a heavily-populated region within Ontario. The Hospital for Sick Children is a busy quaternary referral centre which serves a large population base and cares for the most complex neonatal and paediatric medical and surgical patients in the province. ACTS transports around 1400 patients annually (60% neonatal and 40% paediatric) by road (in dedicated ambulances), rotor, and fixed-wing aircraft, in addition to staffing telephone and video advice calls. Your training will include all aspects of transport medicine, including rotations in each of our hospital's three intensive care units (neonatal, paediatric, and cardiac), and two months in research/electives. Transport Fellows provide phone and video guidance to the RN and RT clinicians on the ACTS team, accompany the team on critical and complex interfacility transports, attend high-risk deliveries, and provide neonatal consultations to community-based physicians. This fellowship is ideal for those with neonatal and/or pediatric ICU background who wish to build experience and expertise in pediatric transport medicine.

Of note, this program is not an accredited program of the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons of Canada. The fellowship is generally for a one year term, although extensions are occasionally possible. Sub-specialization within this transport fellowship is feasible for a limited number of trainees who have a particular interest in Hemodynamics, Neurocritical care, or Point of Care Ultrasound (POCUS).

Eligibility

- Canadian and International trainees
- Positions are open to those who have completed subspecialty training in Neo-perinatal Medicine, Paediatric ICU, Paediatric Emergency Medicine or Anaesthesiology.

Upon Completion of Program

- All trainees will receive a certificate of completion

Application Process

Entrance to the SickKids Transport Fellowship Program is annually in July. Rarely a January start date is feasible. The Fellowship Online Application will open September 1, 2022 and close May 31, 2023.